

Contents

- 1 Embedding Professional Development in Educational Settings: Bridging Theory and Practice 1
  - Chapter Objectives 1
  - Need for Praxis in Professional Development 3
  - Malihini Project 4
    - Theoretical Underpinnings and Practical Components 5
    - Research Connections 6
    - Orientation to Language and Culture 8
  - Roadmap: How to Get Where You Want to Go with Professional Development 10
    - Step 1. Set Clear Goals and Anticipated Outcomes 15
    - Step 2. Find out What Teachers Know 15
    - Step 3. Identify Resources 17
    - Step 4: Design the Project 18
      - Developing Coursework That Combines Theory and Practice* 18
      - Offering Field Support That Guides Teachers* 20
      - Creating Communities of Practice That Facilitate Collaboration* 20
    - Step 5: Implement the Project 21
      - Selecting the School(s)* 22
      - Engaging Teachers and Administrators* 22
      - Creating a Timeline for Coursework Implementation* 23
      - Structuring Field Support* 24
    - Step 6: Evaluate the Project 25
  - Conclusion 26
  - Questions for Reflection 26

- 2 Teacher Collaboration in the Development of Praxis: Key Structures for a Successful Project 27
  - Chapter Objectives 27
  - Breaking Down Isolation Walls 29
    - Challenges and Opportunities 30
    - Icebreaker Activities for Teacher Educators 31
  - Engaging Teachers in Group Work 32
    - Challenges and Opportunities 33
  - Relating Professional Development Directly to Classroom Practices 34
    - Challenges and Opportunities 40
  - Encouraging Self-Reflection and Peer Evaluation 42
    - Challenges and Opportunities 44

Modeling What Is Taught 45
Challenges and Opportunities 46
Understanding the Importance of Field Support 48
Challenges and Opportunities 49
Conclusion 50
Questions for Reflection 51

3 Changes to Linguistic and Cultural Classroom Landscapes 53
Chapter Objectives 53
Building a Sense of Responsibility for English Language Learner Students 55
Appreciating the Importance of Home Languages in Mainstream Classrooms 56
Treating the Home Language as a Resource in Very Heterogenous Classrooms 62
Training Teachers to See Home Language and Culture as Learning Resources 63
Creating Multilingual and Multicultural Classroom Spaces 65
Students as Experts: Students Become Language Teachers 71
Teaching Numbers and Learning to Add in Portuguese (Kindergarten) 71
Teaching a Lesson on Writing in German (4th Grade) 75
Promoting Bilingual Writing Practices 78
Japanese–English Writing Activities (Kindergarten) 78
Bilingual Storybooks (4th Grade) 81
Supporting Teachers in Making Productive Use of Classroom Diversity 82
Teachers’ Influences on Each Other 83
Personal Experiences with Language Loss 83
Extending Teachers’ Engagement with English Language Learner Students to Home and Community 86
Conclusion 89
Questions for Reflection 89

4 Changes in Pedagogical Classroom Practices 91
Chapter Objectives 91
Using Small-Group Instruction Effectively with English Language Learner Students 93
Participation and Active Engagement 94
Forming Groups 94
Training Students to Do Group Work 97
Promoting Student Talk and Oral Language Development 99
Making Teachers Comfortable with English Language Learner Adaptations 102
Using English Language Learner Instructional Strategies 102
Adapting Lesson Plans for English Language Learner Students 108

Adapting Assessments for English Language Learner Students 112
    Language Objectives 112
    Performance Criteria 114
    Systematic Documentation of Learning 117
    Student Involvement in Assessment 117

Conclusion 121

Questions for Reflections 123

5 Praxis in the Classroom: Field Support 125

Chapter Objectives 125

Summarizing the Field Support Cycle 126

Getting Started 128

Creating a Professional Development Training Team with Field Support 128

Sharing the Field Support Vision 129

Using Scholarly Resources for Teacher Mentoring 131

Establishing and Maintaining Feedback Networks for the Field Supporters 131

Designing Effective Field Support 132

Facilitating Access to and Communication with Teachers 133

Scheduling Frequent and Varied Interactions with Teachers 134

Anchoring Classroom-Based Support in Professional Development
Instruction 135

Conferencing with Teachers after Classroom Observations 135

Supporting Teachers in the Field 139

Taking on a Supportive Role 140

Assuming Learner Identities 141

Negotiating Nonjudgmental Observer Positions 141

Negotiating an Expert Status 141

Classroom Visits and Observation Notes 143

Creating Opportunities for Critical, Guided Reflection and Praxis 144

Giving Teachers Agency 145

Linking Field Support to Course Content 146

Providing Effective Feedback about Problems 147

Assisting Teachers to Work through New Ideas 151

Conclusion 152

Questions for Reflection 153

6 Preparing All Teachers for Linguistically and Culturally Diverse Classrooms: The Malihini Project Legacy 155

Chapter Objectives 155

Long-Term Changes in Teacher Practices 156

Sonya 157

Ashley 157

Coral 158

Challenges and Opportunities	158
Lessons That Inform What Professional Development Providers Should Understand	160
District-Based, Highly Embedded Teacher Professional Development	160
Field Support: The Missing Link	161
Empowering Professional Development Participants: Putting Teachers' Voices at Center Stage	162
Teachers' Professional Development in Multilingual and Multicultural Practices	163
Achieving Culturally and Linguistically Sensitive and Effective Instructional Practices	163
Interdisciplinary Research and Practice	165
Questions for Reflection	166
References	167
Index	177